

SEC Rule 606 Disclosure of Order Routing Information
(Formerly known as Rule 11Ac1-6)

4th Quarter of 2011

SEC Rule 606 of Regulation NMS, requires all broker-dealers, including Carnes Capital Corporation (“Carnes”), to provide statistical information on a quarterly basis regarding order routing practices pertaining to customer orders in NYSE, NASDAQ, and NYSE Amex securities as well as (when applicable) listed options. Carnes has made every attempt to prepare these statistics in compliance with the SEC’s rules. However, these statistics have not been audited and may contain errors. This report includes orders that meet the definition of a “customer order” as defined in Rule 600 of Regulation NMS. Carnes clears through J.P. Morgan Clearing Corp. on a fully disclosed basis.

Carnes takes into consideration many factors when determining where to route customer orders. These include, but are not limited to, opportunities for price improvement, speed of execution, liquidity, order confidentiality, market depth, and order size. Carnes actively monitors the primary execution venues utilized and routes orders to venues that have provided consistent, high-quality executions over time.

Carnes receives reductions in its execution charges from Knight Direct, LLC (“DTTX”) in the form of rebates for routing customer orders that add liquidity to certain market centers. Currently, the maximum rebate offered by any market center available to Carnes via DTTX’s trading platform is $0.00293. With the exception of orders that Carnes routes to RBC Capital Markets, LLC from within DTTX’s trading platform, the vast majority of Carnes’ orders that are routed through DTTX are routed for execution using a smart order router or algorithmic trading tool. Consequently, Carnes is typically not aware of the market center where customer orders have been executed until the trades are completed. In no instance does Carnes preference a particular market center for the purpose of capturing rebates. In fact, Carnes’ execution charges on a monthly basis have always exceeded the rebates or credits it has received. Carnes may also receive research and/or market intelligence information from broker-dealers who receive order flow from Carnes.
